

CLIL LESSON

cenario

03 economics

business administration

Erasmus+

The European Commission's support for the production of this publication does not constitute an endorsement of the contents, which reflect the views only of the authors, and the Commission cannot be held responsible for any use which may be made of the information contained therein.

TASK

READING

Read these texts and then match each company depicted in the text with one of the organizational models that we have studied:

Lineal Management

Taylorism

Toyota Production Company

Committee Structure

1

Henry Ford applied this model in his car factory. Each employee was given a specific task. The task was part of a bigger commission. The way the task was performed was observed in order to increase efficiency. An example of increasing efficiency was tool adjustment screwdrivers and shovels were designed so that the worker could complete the task more quickly and efficiently.

ANSWER:

2

The owner of an important hardware store has 7 employees. He/she has decided who performs each of the different tasks and the best strategies to carry out those tasks.

ANSWER:

3

A company has created different and independent groups to manage several sections of the company. These groups are: Audit and Finance, Human Development, Governance. Each group has a leader who is called the Chair.

ANSWER:

4

A company that specializes in renovating and designing big buildings and has trained workers to concentrate in specific construction disciplines. This way there is less need for supervisions and problems are solved more quickly and efficiently.

ANSWER:

TASK

2

VOCABULARY REVIEW

Fill in the blanks in the text with the most suitable word given.

1

coins	credit card	currency	cash
cheque	money belt	notes

The less money you carry around with you, the better. I usually have about £40 in (1) in my wallet and a couple of pounds in (2) in my pocket. I pay in (3) for things which cost under £10, but for anything over that I use my (4) I only use my (5) book to pay bills. When I go on holiday, I carry all my foreign (6) in a (7) round my waist under my trousers!

2

cheque	credit card	change	cash
--------	-------------	--------	------

- Um, I think £25 is a bit expensive.
- Well, there's 10% off if you pay in
- We still haven't paid the telephone bill.
- Don't worry, I put a in the post last night.
- Can I pay by?
- Yes, we take Visa and Mastercard.
- Have you got any spare? I've only got a twenty-pound note.
- Yes, I think I've got some pound coins.

TASK

2

VOCABULARY REVIEW

Fill in the blanks in the text with the most suitable word given.

3

pension	grant	fee	salary	income
alimony	interest	pocket money	wage	bonus

1. A is what you earn weekly or hourly.
2. A is what you earn monthly or annually.
3. Your annual salary plus any other money you earn in a year is your
4. A is paid to a professional for some work - a lawyer, for example.
5. is given by parents to children.
6. People who have retired receive a
7. can be paid by a person to their former spouse.
8. is extra money you receive monthly or annually if you keep money in the bank.
9. Some people receive a once a year if they have done a good job or if the company has had a good year.
10. A is money given to you to help you with your studies or to travel abroad.

TASK
3a

READING

Read the text about organizational charts.
Write the three sentences below in the correct blank space.

There might be several levels of authority on the same horizontal line.

This model is used by the Catholic Church.

The focus is on the task and how it gets done.

The most common types of charts are:

1 Hierarchical charts, also called vertical charts. The visible head of the organization appears at the top and the line of command follows downwards from top to bottom. The selected group of power at the top dominates the rest. There are very few lines of communication between the different bubbles in the chart.

2 Matrix charts are used in organizations where workers with related skills are grouped together.

This kind of chart illustrates lines of communication rather than authority.

3 Flat charts or horizontal charts are used for companies in which hierarchy is not particularly important.

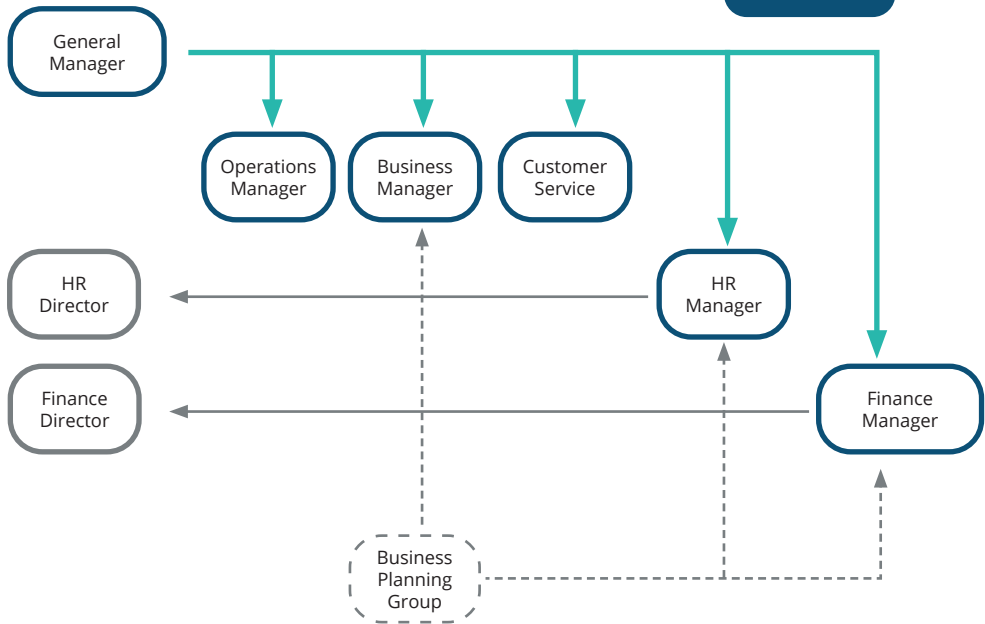

With this type of chart, it might not be clear who reports to whom.

TASK
3b

READING

What types of charts are these?

CHART 1

ANSWER:

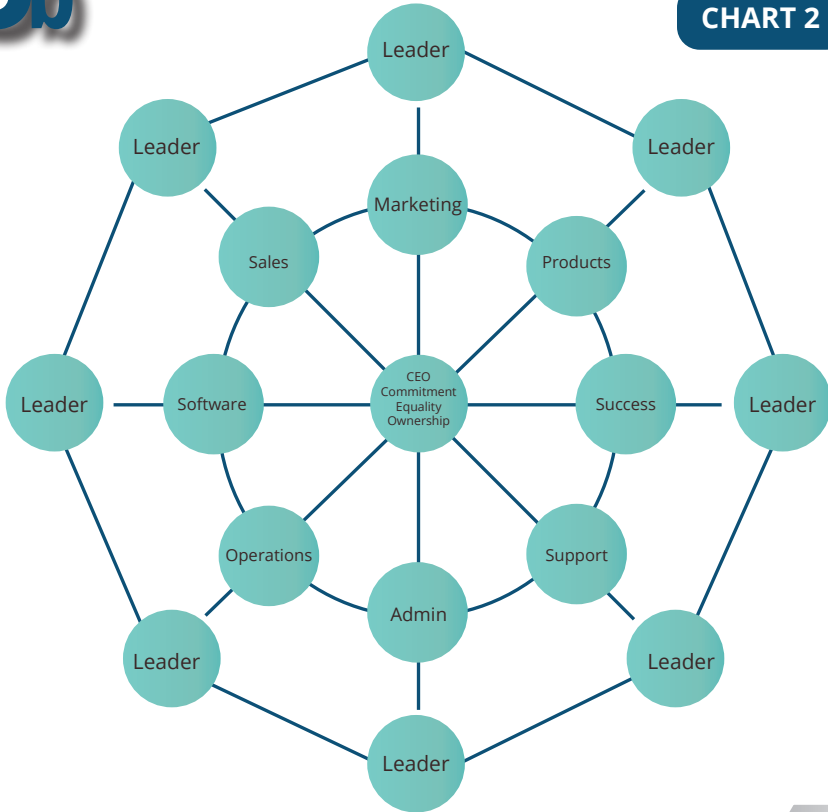

TASK
3b

READING

What types of charts are these?

CHART 2

ANSWER:

